

I am outraged at the Super Bowl halftime show! These actions that took place on CBS should be punished and used as a lesson to future television events. We have sold out for ratings and it is about time the American people and the FCC stands up and takes control of what is being broadcasted on television.